

An illustration of a young boy with dark hair, wearing a green t-shirt and purple shorts, standing on a sand dune. He is looking over a desert village with many small, tan-colored buildings towards a vast landscape of rolling sand dunes under a clear blue sky. The scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting sunrise or sunset. The text "Dream Big, Work Hard" is overlaid in white on a semi-transparent purple band across the middle of the image.

Dream Big,
Work Hard

Ayoub is a very good student. He goes to school every morning. He sits at his wooden desk and listens to his teacher, Mr. Hassan.

But Ayoub has a very big dream.
He wants to be a professional football player. He wants to play for a big team one day.

After school, Ayoub visits his grandfather, Brahim. They drink hot mint tea together. "Dreams are important," says Grandpa Brahim. "But you must work hard."

Every afternoon, Ayoub practices. He runs on the dry ground. He kicks his ball between two large stones. The stones are his goal.

Ayoub knows that school is important for his dream. He reads a book about the human body. He wants to know how to be strong.

His friend Idris comes to play football too. They are a great team. They pass the ball and laugh. Idris is very fast, but Ayoub is very smart.

At night, the desert is very quiet. Ayoub lies on the cool sand and looks at the stars. He sees a giant stadium in the sky. "One day, I will be there," he whispers.

Ayoub goes home and does his homework. He uses a small lamp. He is tired, but he does not stop. He is a hard worker.

Ayoub is happy. He has his books and he has his ball. He knows his dream is possible because he works hard every day.
